SUMMER WORKSHOP IMPACT

"My favorite part of the workshop was becoming one with my instrument. Being able to do what I love for eight hours straight was truly a blessing and the plus was that I was surrounded by others that loved the music as much as I did."

-Sequoia, 15 yrs old, Newark

"My favorite part of the Summer Workshop was being able to perform. The Dizzy's performance was an amazing experience, and the Leshowitz Hall concert gave me a huge amount of confidence as an improviser as it was my first time performing in a combo."

-Emma, 14 yrs old, Mendham, piano

"The best way to learn is through playing with these other people and it really opened my eyes to a lot of things I didn't know before, and it really inspired me to work harder."

"This was my fourth year at Jazz House [Summer Workshop] but my first in housing. I think being a resident was one of my favorite parts of the experience this year because exploring the music didn't end at five, but we continued the conversation in the dorms. I made new friends and learned a lot from students across the country."

-Kakuyon, 17 yrs old, Montclair, trumpet

"Being a resident resulted in me being around people I've never met before for two weeks straight, and we all became very close by the end of the workshop. Having jam sessions almost every night at the dorms helped my improvisation very well"

-Ebban, 14 yrs old, Baltimore (MD), alto sax
